Storm Warnings Lowered

Services Slowly Being Restored; Pilot Grove Man Struck by Falling Ice

By The Associated Press

Storm warnings were lowered over most of the nation's map today as temperatures moderated and generally fair conditions prevailed.

There were only a few precipitation belts. Some rain fell in the valleys and along the east in southern California. There was more snow in the mountains. The rain and rising temperatures indicated a melting of most of the snow which had hit the normally snow-less area the past four days.

PILOT GROVE, Mo., Jan. 13.—(P)—Louis Gerhardt, local manager for the Missouri Public Utilities Company, was struck on the head by a piece of falling ice last night as he threw the switch restoring power to this city of 700.

Gerhardt was knocked unconscious and taken to a Boonville hospital for observation.

Restoration of service to the city brought an end to water rationing, instituted when supplies ran low. The city had been without power since Monday night.

But the storm-harassed areas of some southwest and south central states still felt the effects of a three-day ice storm.

In the Pacific northwest, a breakdown of the northwest electrical power pool still threatened. Streams in the inland mountain sections are choked with ice after a week of severe cold but there was hope of rising temperatures. However, the mercury dropped to five below zero at Ephrata, Wash., today.

Little Headway

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 13.—(P)—Power and communication utilities reported today they had made little headway in restoring service in this ice battered section of Missouri.

Officials of the Empire District Electric company said about 30 per cent of the city now had electrical service, but the figure was about the same as yesterday. Service has been reestablished at bakeries, hospitals and processing dairies.

Schools, closed since Monday, are not expected to resume classes until next Monday. School officials said it was possible that not all schools would be reopened then.

Flight Wreckage

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 13.—(P)—Columbia and Boone county continued their fight out of the wreckage of an unprecedented ice storm today, but it was still a slow and tedious process and it will be many days before heat, light and telephone conditions are normal.

Schools were still closed, and will remain so until heat is restored at all of them, Neil C. Aslins, superintendent, said. But the Boone county court house, its electrically operated stoker in operation again, was doing business as usual.

And conditions were normal at the post office, which was without power to operate its furnace and its automatic cancelling machines for hours yesterday.

Phone Service Partly Restored

PARSONS, Kas., Jan. 13.—(P)—Ice-choked areas in Missouri and Kansas slowly shook off the effects of a three-day storm today under improving weather conditions.

Communications and electric service, hard hit by the three days of freezing rain and sleet, still were on a limited basis in

Thought For Today

The devil can cite Scripture for his purpose.

An evil soul, producing holy witness.

Is like a villain with a smiling cheek;

A goodly apple rotten at the heart;

O, what a goodly outside falsehood hath!

Public Schools Dismissed Two Afternoons

Utilities Have Extra Gangs Making Repairs

With the thawing that started when the sun came out and the temperature went up trouble started with the Missouri Public Service company in Sedalia. Ice began to fall and wires began to break. Men are working in various sections trying to get the broken lines again established.

The telephone company is having the same trouble. T. M. Mullally, manager of the Sedalia office, said there are some lines out of order but men are striving to get the service back as quickly as possible.

James L. Collins, city engineer, said this afternoon that work in his department is going fine. He does not expect any more trees to fall and now it is only the breaking of the limbs as the ice falls. Good progress is being made in cleaning the streets and unless it freezes up again he expects to have the job about done by tomorrow.

Schools Dismissed

Public schools were dismissed today at noon and will be dismissed again tomorrow at noon. This decision was reached Wednesday night by the school board because it is difficult for the students to get to and from school twice a day, particularly in the late afternoon.

Parochial schools are open as usual.

The mail carriers have been having a rough time of it, slipping, sliding, falling down but so far they have come through with none hurt to any great extent. In most cases the mail has been delivered as usual with only a few routes cut short in the afternoon delivery.

The rural mail carriers have been having the real troubles trying to get through and have put in many extra hours on their jobs.

The Rural Electric Administration management reports the morning after the storm hit 90 per cent of their lines were out. Wednesday night they had 90 per cent of their service restored but with the thaw breaking in again and there were more troubles. However there are five crews working and they expect to have most of their service restored again this evening.

Offered To Serve As Dove of Peace

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 13.—(P)—This city today offered to serve as the dove of peace in the war between Chinese Nationalists and Communists.

A peace treaty ending the war between Russia and Japan was signed in this naval port 44 years ago.

The city council voted last night to acquint the belligerents in China of the city's willingness to be the site peace negotiations.

'Support Kiwanis Objectives' Theme of Talk by Rev. Bartley

"Supporting Kiwanis Objectives" was the subject of a talk by Rev. E. W. Bartley, superintendent of the Sedalia District of the Methodist church, speaking before the Kiwanis Club at its meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon. He was introduced by the Rev. H. U. Campbell.

Among the objectives of the club is one to combat communism, and in this the speaker urged that American citizens should respect and protect their rights and the rights of their neighbors, but not by aggression.

Conference on European Unity

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(P)—Britain and France began a conference today on how to achieve western European unity for a stand against Communism.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin met with French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman 90 minutes after the latter arrived from Paris. Top aides of both were present.

The North Atlantic Alliance proposal undoubtedly is under discussion in this conference, which will last three days. In the background is Sweden's apparent reluctance to enter into a pact with the western powers and desert her traditional position of neutrality in big power squabbles.

Seek Go-Ahead On Program of Public Health

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said today that he and two colleagues are seeking President Truman's go-ahead on a vast new public health program.

The Florida lawmaker told a reporter the group is urging the administration to back a single piece of legislation which would wrap up Mr. Truman's national health insurance plan with a half dozen other related proposals.

Pepper and Senators Murray (D-Mont) and Humphrey (D-Minn) already have discussed the idea with federal security administrator Oscar R. Ewing, it was learned. Ewing reportedly promised to study the matter and decide whether to take it up with the president.

Pepper said that besides health insurance, such an omnibus bill would provide for:

1. Increased federal aid for hospital construction.

2. Medical research.

3. Federal aid to medical schools and students.

4. A nurses recruiting program.

5. Expansion of the U. S. public health service.

6. A dental program.

In his State of the Union message, Mr. Truman renewed his request for universal health insurance. The program would be financed generally by payroll taxes.

Knife And Fork Club Dinner Jan. 31

Willard Mayberry, nationally known speaker, will be on the program of the Sedalia Knife and Fork club at the next dinner meeting in Bothwell hotel, Monday evening, January 31, according to announcement of Rev. Fr. A. J. Brunswick, president of the club. Mr. Mayberry will tell of interrelated problems of the farmer and small town merchant, what country life means and what the difficulties, rewards, aims and results of rural life are.

State's Touchy Interest Rate Is Brought Up

Schedule Devised After Months of Public Hearings

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 13.—(P)—A "public" solution to Missouri's touchy interest rate problem was offered today by the state legislature today. It would permit up to 24 per cent annual interest on a loan of less than $100.

From that point up to $2,500, the interest level would drop through an intricate formula until the borrower would pay up to 9.6 per cent annually on a top limit installment loan of $2,500.

The schedule was devised after months of public hearings and study by a volunteer committee composed of representatives from farm, labor, business and civic groups.

Review of Problem

The program suggested today to the legislature came in the form of a 34-page review of the lending problem in Missouri, an analysis of the factors involved and a three-fold recommendation. The recommendations called for:

1. The interest rate schedule with a top of 24 per cent on loans of $100 or less and a top of 9.6 per cent on loans of $2,500.

2. A regulatory law specifying how installment lenders must operate.

3. An enforcement act, giving the state division of finance broad powers to see that lenders obey the companion laws.

The committee figured borrowers might have to pay up to these annual rates for loans of the following amounts:

A loan of $200 would draw 19 per cent; $300—17.33 per cent; $400—16.5; $500—16; $600—14.66; $801—14.65; $1,000—12; $1,001—11.99; $2,000—10 and $2,500—9.6.

Rate on Unpaid Balance

The committee said for amounts in between it would be relatively simple to figure the proper rates. They would apply on loans to be repaid by regular installments and the rate would be paid only on the unpaid balance of the loan.

The proposal was announced today by Rep. Lawrence K. Roos, St. Louis Republican and one of the bitterest legislative foes of the recent interest rate proposals. In the past two years bills have been through the legislative mill proposing rates up to 30 per cent a year.

Two of them were vetoed by former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly and a third died in the legislature.

To Improve Facilities

In submitting its recommendations, the committee said its prime purpose was to make lending facilities as adequate as they were before the 1945 constitution was adopted. The new state charter changed Missouri's interest picture drastically.

Before that, interest laws were designed specifically to cover the type of lender. For instance, small loan companies could charge up to 36 per cent a year, banks could charge up to eight per cent and investment companies could charge up to 12 per cent.

Hoover Asks Broad Power For Truman

To Overhaul And Straighten Out The Government

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—Herbert Hoover asked Congress today to give President Truman broad power to overhaul the government, declaring that present disorder is costing the nation "savily."

The former Republican chief executive, chairman of a commission on government reorganization, urged that Mr. Truman be granted even greater re-shuffling authority than that which Congress reluctantly gave President Roosevelt in 1939.

Under the old Reorganization Act, which expired last March 31, Congress kept the right to veto changes proposed by the president and almost a score of agencies were labeled "No not touch."

Should Not Restrict Power

But Hoover asserted that "The power of the president to prepare and transmit plans of reorganization to the Congress should not be restricted by limitations or exemptions."

"Once the limiting or exempting process is begun," he said, "it will end the possibility of achieving really substantial results."

The former president made his recommendations in identical letters to the Senate and House.

The commission, he said, did not give "sweeping endorsement to any and all reorganization plans."

He said Congress could keep its power to disapprove, while a "sound exercise of the president's discretion" would offer an additional "safeguard against unwisdom."

Re-shuffling Needed

But he stressed that a general re-shuffling of "the most gigantic business on earth" is badly needed.

"We must reorganize the executive branch to give it the simplicity of structure, the unity of purpose, and the clear line of executive authority that was originally intended under the Constitution," he said.

"This commission has found that the United States is paying heavily for a lack of order, a lack of clear lines of authority and responsibility, and a lack of effective organization in the executive branch," Hoover said.

Fire Destroys School Bldg.

FREDERICKTOWN, Mo., Jan. 13.—(P)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the 12-room brick building of the Mine La Motte consolidated school six miles north of here today.

(Mine La Motte is 70 miles south of St. Louis.)

Supt. of Schools Clyde Stephens said a board meeting will be held today to make plans for continuing classwork. The school has five teachers and approximately 100 pupils.

The fire broke out several hours before the opening of school and spread so rapidly none of the equipment, including typewriters, books or hand instruments, could be taken out. Mine La Motte has no fire department.

Stephens estimated the loss at $100,000 to $125,000. He said the school had $15,000 insurance.

New Orders to Draft Boards

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—Selective Service headquarters today ordered draft boards to discontinue sending registrants to the Army for physical examination.

The order will remain in effect until further notice—probably until the Army resumes calls for draftees.

The draft boards also were told to stop classifying registrants as 1-A and 1-AO. Men classified 1-A are ready for immediate induction; those classified 1-AO are conscientious objectors.

Major Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, sent this telegram to all state directors with a request that they notify local boards:

"Call for men to be inducted during February cancelled. No call will be issued during March."

"Discontinue immediately delivery of registrants for armed forces physical examination. Discontinue classification of registrants as 1-A and 1-AO."

"Registrants not eligible for deferred class should remain unclassified."

Harper's Name Is Sent To The Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—The nomination of Roy W. Harper to be a roving federal judge for the eastern and western districts of Missouri was sent to the Senate today by President Truman.

Harper, of Caruthersville, is now serving under a recess appointment. He is a former Democratic state chairman of the president's home state.

Another Missourian in the list sent to the Senate was that of Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley, army chief of staff, to the permanent rank of four-star general. He is now a major general with the temporary rank of full general.

New Record Seeker Averaging Better Than 120 Mi. Per Hour

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—(P)—Bill Odom, en route from Honolulu to Teterboro, N. J., in quest of a new light-plane distance flight record of 5,285 miles had covered more than 1,450 miles at 10:30 a. m. CST today.

Odom radioed his position, which was less than 850 miles south West of Seattle, to the Civil Aeronautics Authority in San Francisco. He was averaging a little better than 120 miles per hour.

For the non-stop, non-refueling venture, the famous around-the-world flier was piloting a Beech Bonanza, a tiny, 1,500-pound plane with a 185-horsepower engine.

The flight is sponsored by the Beech Aircraft Corp., of Wichita, Kas., to demonstrate the capability of its plane.

Even with extra gasoline tanks, the plane took off with only 200 gallons of fuel. The plane also has three types of radios and special navigational equipment.

Accident on West Highway 50 Today

An accident occurred at 4:30 o'clock this morning at Muddy Creek Hill, west of Sedalia on Highway 50 when a 1936 Ford truck driven by Robert Lee Ream, 1101 1/2 West Second street, going east, and a 1944 Mack truck driven by Wilford Compton for the Wilson's Truck Company, going west, collided. Compton went partly on the shoulder of the road, but the left fender of his truck was hit by the other truck, said Pete Stohr, highway patrolman.

Held Grudge Against Post Office Dept.

Probably Reason For Slaying Postal Inspector

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 13.—(P)—A charge of murder was filed today against Roy Frank Godbey, 53, in connection with the slaying of Earl Pruet, Oklahoma City attorney.

Godbey has been identified as the slayer by witnesses to the shooting.

They said Pruet successfully prosecuted Godbey on an armed robbery charge when Pruet was Jefferson (Okla.) county attorney. Godbey drew 35 years in the McAlester state penitentiary. He was released from prison Sept. 12 of last year.

The U. S. marshal's office today asked the marshal's office in Muskogee to assign a guard to U. S. District Judge Eugene Rice.

Rice was the state district judge who sentenced Roy Frank Godbey to 35 years for armed robbery in Jefferson county.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 13.—(P)—One of Oklahoma City's twin slayings appeared solved beyond question today, but the other—an almost mirror image—was a deeper mystery than ever.

Joseph Donnelly, 69, admitted shooting down Postal Inspector E. M. Harkins, 51, in the downtown post office yesterday.

U. S. District Attorney Robert Shelton said he will ask the federal grand jury for a murder indictment against Donnelly today. Donnelly pleaded innocent at his arraignment before the U. S. commissioner although he repeatedly admitted the killing.

Police learned Donnelly's reasons when they read the letter he carried in his pocket. It was written last July to President Truman, but never mailed.

Grudge Against Department

"I love you Mr. President . . ." it started, and went on for pages. It was a confiding recital of an eight-year grudge against the Post (Please Turn To Page 4 Col. 3)

To Speak Here

To Egypt and Israel were setting set to talk armistice on Rhodes under United Nations auspices.

Egyptian officials said an important new oil strike had been made in the Sinai desert area east of Suez which may become one of the richest in the world. The Negev desert of southern Palestine, where Israel and Egypt have been fighting, also has possibilities of oil.

The Dutch said the U. N. good offices committee will fly Saturday to the island of Bangka to talk to exiled Republican Premier Mohamed Hatta. The U. N. Security Council scheduled more talks on Kashmir, the princely state where India and Pakistan have called off for a moment their undeclared war.

Acheson Not An Appeaser

Assures Committees He Wants no Subversive Persons In State Department

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—Dean Acheson told senators today there must be something more than even "disinterested malevolence" behind suggestions that he is an appeaser.

Foreign relations committeemen skirted gingerly the question of relations with Russia as Acheson testified in a hearing on his nomination to be secretary of state.

But in answer to a general question by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), ranking Republican and former chairman of the committee, Acheson said:

"The things I read about myself as an appeaser are so incredible that it is difficult for me to believe that even disinterested malevolence could pick them up."

He did not mention Russia in that connection. Neither did Vandenberg.

The nominee assured the committee that he wants no subversive persons around him if he becomes secretary of state, and declared:

"No step will be left untaken in order to secure the state department in its conduct of foreign affairs."

Acheson said he and Alger Hiss are friends "and we remain friends" in connection with his denial of testimony before the house un-American activities committee that he gave out state department secrets to a Soviet agent.

The nominee described the information on which questions were raised about Alger Hiss and his brother Donald at the time Donald was Acheson's executive assistant when Acheson was assistant secretary of state.

Up To President

Acheson subscribed to a statement by Vandenberg that foreign policy is something to be determined by the President, and said President Truman has stated in the "most categorical manner" that he does not contemplate any change in that policy.

And he said that while it should be "utterly clear" that nobody can take the place of Gen. George C. Marshall, retiring secretary of state, "someone who has served under him can do his best to follow General Marshall's example."

After Acheson's testimony, former Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius told the committee that President Truman made a "wise selection" in choosing Acheson as his next secretary of state.

Stettinius said the late President Roosevelt had "very great confidence" in Acheson and had made up his mind to appoint him "to one of the highest posts of the government."

Qualified For Post

Stettinius said he had worked with Acheson for five years and had known him for 15 years.

"He is uniquely qualified for this post from the standpoint of natural endowment, age, temperament and capacity and his intimacy and familiarity with foreign affairs," the former Secretary said.

He said it is not common knowledge that Acheson "made an important contribution" to the initial planning for the United Nations.

Stettinius said there had been speculation about disagreement in the state department over policy toward Russia and that "certain personnel changes took place as a result."

"I wish to assure the committee," he said, "that any such personnel changes had nothing to do with Acheson."

Denies Having Arrangement

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 13.—(P)—Circuit Judge Emory E. Smith, Monett, Mo., on trial on an indictment charging income tax fraud, emphatically denied from the witness stand in federal court today that he ever had any arrangement with his court reporter, Mrs. Virginia Butler Sullinger, whereby he paid her any "kick backs" from her salary or expense accounts.

Taking the witness stand as his own principal witness shortly before the noon recess, Judge Smith said he had undertaken since his indictment to figure out more accurately his income and expenses during the six years in question, 1942 through 1947, and started giving his computations from a large sheaf of papers he took with him to the stand.

The 56-year-old jurist was visibly nervous, but spoke clearly and firmly. He denied having any arrangement with his court reporter, Mrs. Virginia Butler Sullinger, whereby he paid her any "kick backs" from her salary or expense accounts.

Hal Boyle Says This Veteran Fights His Toughest Campaign

By Hal Boyle
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Old people are growing more important. Every year there are more of them. Every year from now on there will be still more.

For despite its long foolishness the human race is living longer. The population is growing up—chronologically if not morally and intellectually.

And that fact in itself makes elderly people more important—in many ways.

It makes them more important economically. The day is about gone when poor old work-worn grandpappy must observe to himself mournfully: "The only really friendly smile I get any more is from the undertaker."

Old Folks Independent
Other business men are going to have smiles for Grandpa and Grandma from now on. Because the old folks, more and more, are financially independent. Fewer bank failures, the growth of social security, the enlargement of industrial pension plans—these things are enabling millions of men and women to retire with some semblance of a nest egg.

So old people are in themselves a tremendous market for people with things to sell.

And the old folks are going to have more influence with politicians. They will become a tremendous pressure group for themselves. They will probably ask and get from the government more of what they want. And, in a democracy, that seems fair enough. Does anyone doubt that, if school children could vote, there would be more and better school buildings?

More Important to Doctors

Old people also are getting more important to the medical profession. Having cut the birth mortality pretty much to a minimum, the doctors now find that diphtheria and the whooping cough are taking less of their time than hardening of the arteries and that ancient remedy—"my rheumatiz."

Many physicians are specializing in the new science of gerontology—the study of old age.

And they have found that it isn't enough for old people merely to be of some economic importance to others. They have to be made to feel still important to themselves.

And that's a problem. Their pride and self-confidence suffers a terrific blow when they realize they have passed the peak of their powers. As Dr. Martin Gumpert told the gerontological society here last week. The self-realization of aging is "perhaps the most profound shock of our lifespan—next to dying."

Going Down

For when a woman looks into the mirror and sees her beauty fading, when a man no longer can go up the stairs two at a time—each knows in his secret heart that he has begun to die. And he begins to be afraid. For all healthy life distrusts death.

This fear begins earlier than most people realize. And it affects them in ways they would be reluctant to admit.

The fear often sets in during middle age, which is only a corridor of uncertain length between youth and old age. It explains why many men make the accumulation of money an unreasonable passion. They try to replace the security of dwindling health and physical strength with financial security—an impossibility.

Fear of Getting Old

This fear of being old, whether it starts at 35 or 60, causes many people to go through a kind of troubled second adolescence. Both men and women do foolish things they afterward regret.

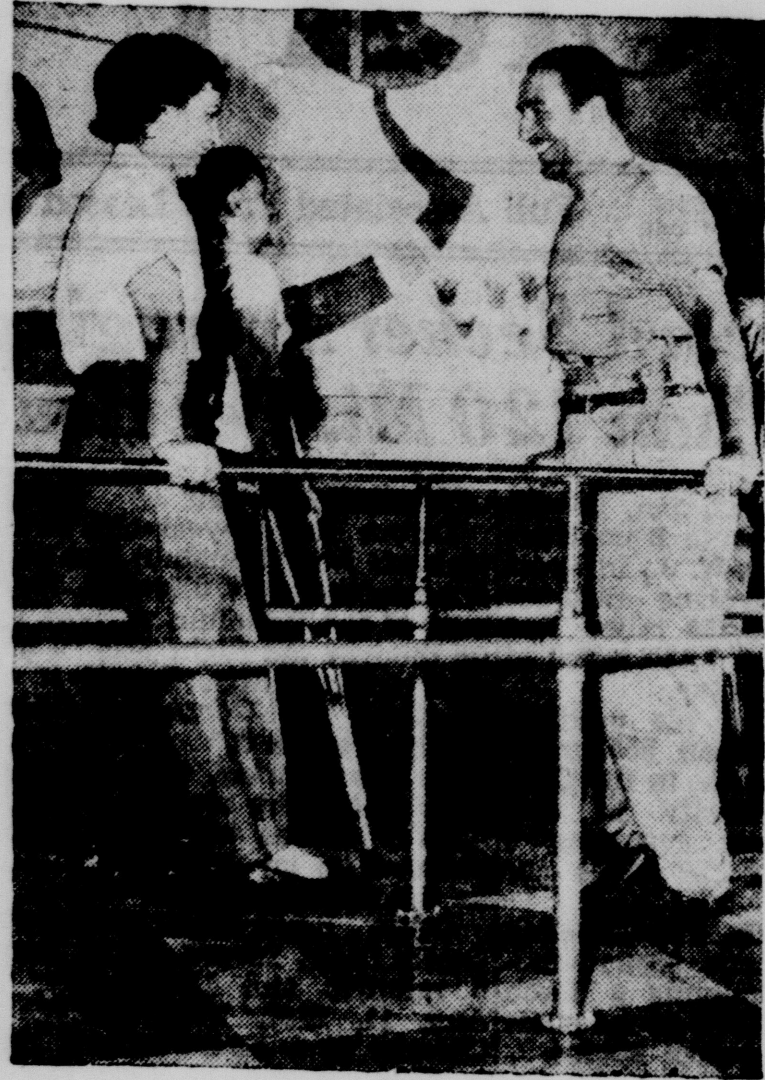

They take what they call "a last fling" at life. A friend of mine, who handles financial affairs for many people, has a name for this period.

"I call it forty-year fever," he said. "And it's the devil of a thing to go through. It destroys a lot of people."

Needs Props

It is then that the man or woman, fearful of the common fate of mankind, most needs the props of home, friendship and religion. For once the threshold of old age is crossed, most people don't find it too bad. Sociological surveys show that old people often complain of loneliness. But if asked whether they are happy, the majority say—"Yes!"

Since there are going to be more and more old people in the world,

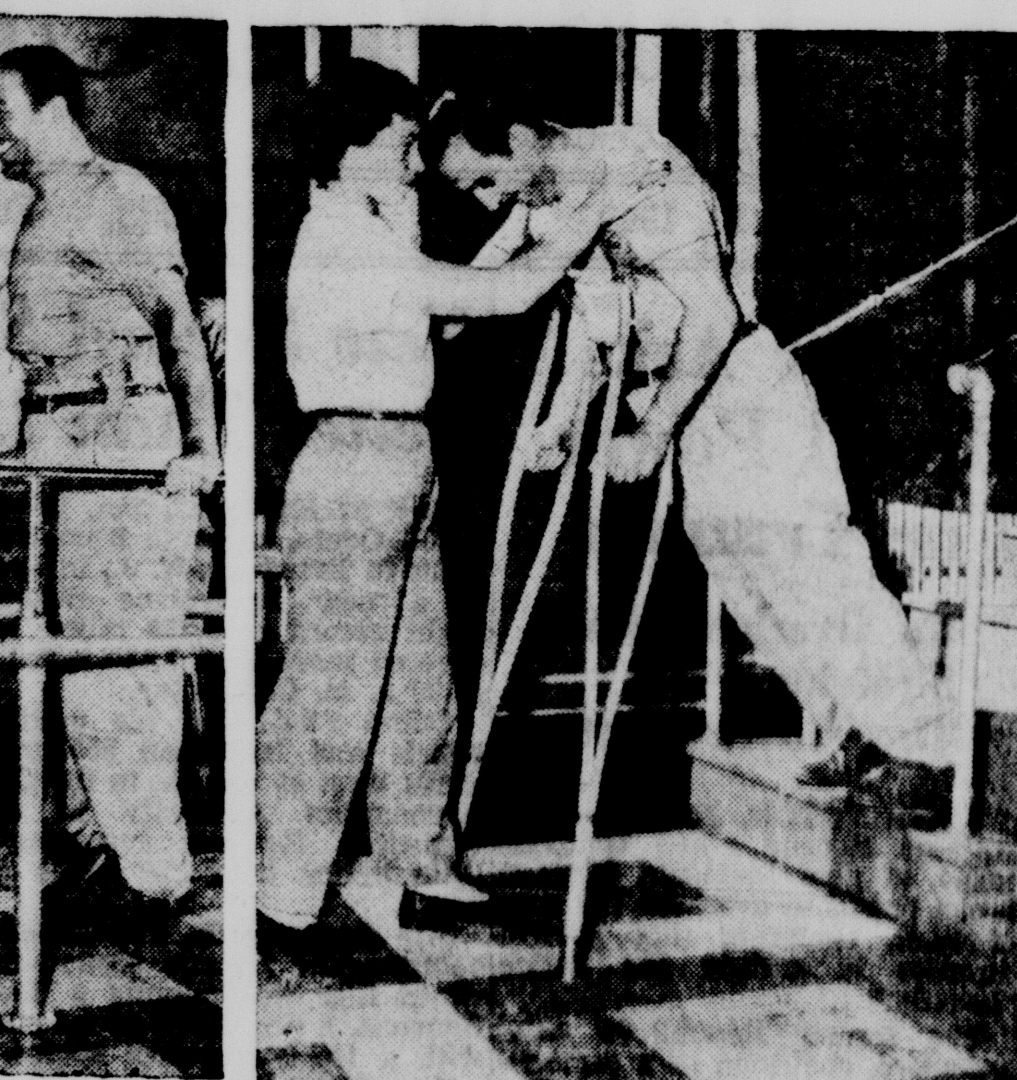

Jack Jacobson was wounded by shrapnel during the Italian campaign. He became a disabled veteran, paralyzed from breastbone down. But he wanted to get around, naturally. So Jack went to the Institute for the Crippled and Disabled in New York City, and as these pictures show, he was taught how to overcome his difficulty.

Top left, one of the institute's physical therapists puts him thru his paces on the parallel bars, to develop his arms so they can handle crutches. His course was why not prepare them for it. They can be educated in a way to lessen the shock and to emphasize the serene pleasures in store.

Universities ought to offer a post-graduate course in how to grow old gracefully.

five days a week. Gradually he advanced until he walked down stairs, top right.

Today, after "graduation," he has no trouble walking to his hand-controlled car on crutches by himself, as seen at right. It took a year and a half of hard work, but he's now physically independent. In 31 years, the institute has helped more than 30,000 disabled persons. Its purpose is to make the physically handicapped into economically adequate members of society, through physical and vocational training and social work. Its methods and technique have attracted students from as far as Helsinki, Finland and Shanghai, China.

Miss Roberta Ann Larcom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Larcom, 214 East Market street, Warrensburg and Mr. James Evans Eddy, son of H. H. Eddy, of Lincoln, Nebr., formerly of Smithton, were married at 4:00 o'clock December 26 at the Christ Episcopal church in Warrensburg. The Rev. Robert A. Baugh, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated.

The altar was decorated with Christmas greens, candles, and baskets of white chrysanthemums. Springs of holly tied with white tulle, were at each pew and three white candles were in each window.

Before the ceremony, Miss Donna McQuerry, of Kansas City, sang, "O, Perfect Love." "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Miss Laura Madalyn Mills. Candles were lighted by Misses Marilyn Stewart and Charlotte Bernstein, who wore gowns of solid tulle, fashioned with sheer yokes and deep bertha collars. The brides were fitted and the skirts hooped. They wore white pom poms in their hair and carried their candles in sprays of holly, tied with red ribbons.

The bride wore a gown of gardenia white wedding-ring satin, fashioned with drop shoulder neckline and bordered in Venice lace. The long sleeves tapered to points over the hands and the bodice was fastened down the back with satin buttons. The full gathered skirt fell over hoops and lengthened into a long, aisle-wide train. A finger-tip veil of imported bridal illusion cascaded from a matching French bonnet of satin, trimmed with orange blossoms. The bride's only ornament was a cameo locket, a gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of white roses and stavia, tied with a shower of white satin ribbon.

Miss Betty Jean Larcom, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a gown of emerald green faille, styled with a square neckline, elongated bodice, short sleeves and bouffant skirt. She wore matching mitts and white pom poms in her hair and carried a garland of holly tied with red ribbon.

Mrs. L. D. Hoehns, of Smithton, sister of the bridegroom, who was matron of honor, wore a gown of American Beauty red, styled with square neckline, elongated bodice, short sleeves and bouffant skirt and wore matching mitts and white pom poms in her hair. She carried a garland of holly, tied with green ribbon.

Mr. L. D. Hoehns, of Smithton was best man. The ushers were: Gail Oehrke, Jack Baugh and Jess Tuggle, all of Smithton. A reception was held, following the ceremony, at the Larcom home.

The couple left for a short wedding trip and returned to Warrensburg for several days before leaving January 1, to make their home in Denver, Colo.

The bride is a graduate of Warrensburg high school and attended C. M. S. C. for two years, where she was a member of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Mr. Eddy is a graduate of the Smithton high school and former-

Operation on Singer, Voice Is Undamaged

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(P)—Singer Marian Anderson underwent a delicate throat operation last June—and for a while wondered if she ever would sing again. She now knows her voice was undamaged.

The story was revealed in the New York Herald Tribune today. The Negro contralto told Helen Worden of the Herald Tribune that the operation involved removal of a cyst from the esophagus.

Miss Anderson said she suffered a sore throat after a tour of the West Indies in the spring of 1947.

She said she was operated on in Jewish hospital, Brooklyn, on June 30, 1948.

"A cyst was removed from the food pipe near the base of my larynx—top of solar plexus, I guess you call it," she said. "The operation was very intricate and had to be performed through my back."

Following a summer rest at her country home in Danbury, Conn., she had her accompanist, Franz Rupp, listen to her first song after the operation.

Miss Anderson said she sang a French song she never had done before. "I sang it straight through from beginning to end without the slightest difficulty," she said. "After that, I wasn't afraid."

Now she's ready to start a concert tour which lasts until the end of April.

Members of the Stephens College club were entertained Saturday with a 1:30 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. G. H. Routsong, 1316 West Fourth street, with Mrs. Fred Lange as the assisting hostess.

A bowl of flowers centered the drop leaf table in the dining room and arrangements of cut flowers were used in the living room.

The luncheon was served at card tables which were set with antique colored glassware.

A short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Routsong, after which cards were played during the afternoon with awards going to Miss Marion Keens and Mrs. Oscar DeWolf.

Those present at the meeting were: Mrs. Roy S. Kemper, Mrs. G. W. Chambers, Miss Marion Keens, Mrs. J. B. Kyd, Mrs. Oscar DeWolf, Mrs. Ruth Riley, Mrs. Sid Condit, Mrs. Routsong and Mrs. Lange.

The meeting of Circle No. 6, of the Sedalia Garden club has been postponed one week and will meet on Friday of next week, January 21, at the home of Mrs. Wilson Harbit, 1804 West Eighteenth street.

The Nu Phi Mu Sorority met Friday at the home of Miss Peggy Preisendorfer, 816 South Massachusetts avenue.

Mrs. Bob Wall, president, presided over the business meeting, at which time a rummage sale was planned and plans were also made for a rush party to be held Friday night.

During the social hour the hostess served refreshments.

Circle No. 6 of the Sedalia Garden club will not meet Friday, as planned, but will meet the 21st of this month at the home of Mrs. Wilson Harbit, 1804 West Eighteenth street.

The La Monte Thursday club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. L. M. Littlefield on January 6.

The new president, Mrs. Arthur Mahin, presided and the following chairman and leaders were appointed for the coming year: Policy chairman, Mrs. Fred Weikel; parent education chairman, Mrs. Raymond Wasson; reading chairman, Mrs. B. L. Rodgers; rural youth leader, Mrs. George Lewis; song leader, Mrs. L. M. Littlefield; same leader, Mrs. O. O. Ginn; clothing leaders, Mrs. O. L. Bybee and Mrs. Wasson; food leader, Mrs. Ed Ficken; home management leaders, Mrs. Guy Mahin and Mrs. Oliver Sevier; health leader, Mrs. A. E. Dorrance; garden leader, Mrs. George Landes; poultry leader, Mrs. John Shernamen; home grounds leader, Mrs. A. A. Yokley.

Miss Esther Dilsaver, home agent, was present and gave a talk on "Balanced Farming," which she said really means "Better Farm Living."

After the instruction period the club adjourned for the social hour. Refreshments were served by the hostess and a shower was given for one of its members, Mrs. Aubrey Moore.

President Visits Secretary Marshall

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—President Truman made a flying visit to ailing Secretary of State Marshall at Pinehurst, N. C., on Wednesday after slipping out of Washington without advance notice.

Mr. Truman returned to the capital five hours later.

The President told newsmen he found Marshall looking "better than I have seen him in a month."

He said the visit was a complete surprise to the secretary, but that Mrs. Marshall knew he was coming. Marshall had been out for a walk in the sunshine shortly before the President arrived.

Mr. Truman said he did not decide to make the trip until about 10 a. m. today. Little more than two hours later, he was flying south.

"I needed to see the secretary of state, so I went to see him," Mr. Truman told reporters.

When a reporter suggested that some significance might be attached to his trip, in connection with U. S. foreign policy, the President replied:

"No, it was just personal. I had a very nice visit with the general for about an hour. I'm glad I went, because we reshaped a lot of stories that were mutually satisfactory."

Mr. Truman did not comment on what kind of "stories" they discussed.

Neither the White House nor aides who accompanied him on the flight indicated there was any urgency behind the trip.

"The President wanted to see General Marshall once more while he is still secretary of state," said Eben Ayers, assistant White House press secretary.

Marshall's resignation from the cabinet becomes effective Jan. 20, the day Mr. Truman will be inaugurated President. The 63-year old general is convalescing at his Pinehurst home after an operation last month for removal of a kidney.

Mill Caldwell's body was found last month in her small home at Chester, Pa.—a house which police said was without electric lights and which was heated by a coal stove in the kitchen and an oil heater she carried from room to room.

The coroner's office later said she had died as a result of malnutrition.

Russians Will Go to War to Achieve Ends

So Undersecretary Of State Tells Senate Committee

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
U. S. Undersecretary of State Lovett is quoted as telling the Senate Foreign Relations committee that Soviet leaders would go to war whenever they figured it necessary to achieve their aims—and felt they could win.
That's calling a spade a spade. It depicts a merciless and unscrupulous Red mentality which won't hesitate at wholesale bloodshed to attain its ends.
However, we are left to figure what the Muscovites think of prospects at this juncture. When, if ever, will the witching hour for war arrive?
The way it looks from here, the Bolsheviks hardly can find the signs propitious for launching war now. As Secretary of the Army Royall says, the forces of democracy are definitely on the rise against Communist in Europe. The secretary, just back from a trip abroad, says he doesn't believe war is imminent.

Is Are Opportunists
Therefore the presumption is Moscow will pursue its present tactics. Of course the Communists are opportunists and may be expected to take advantage of any good opening. However, they are likely to continue their world offensive largely by indirectness, that is, by making others do their work for them.
Bolshevism is the cuckoo in the nest of democracy. The Reds have been doing right well for themselves in many instances.

For example:
Moscow is getting a vastly important part of its world revolution carried out for it by providing the Chinese Communists with the sinews of war. The Russians are behind various other revolutionary movements in Asia. Obstructive tactics like the Berlin blockade are placing a heavy economic strain on the western Nations, especially the United States. That strain is calculated to render the west incapable of engaging in war.

Russians Losing Ground
Still, while the Russians have been playing a crafty and at times profitable game, on the whole they appear to be losing ground in the western theatre of the "cold war." This is the crucial zone at present.

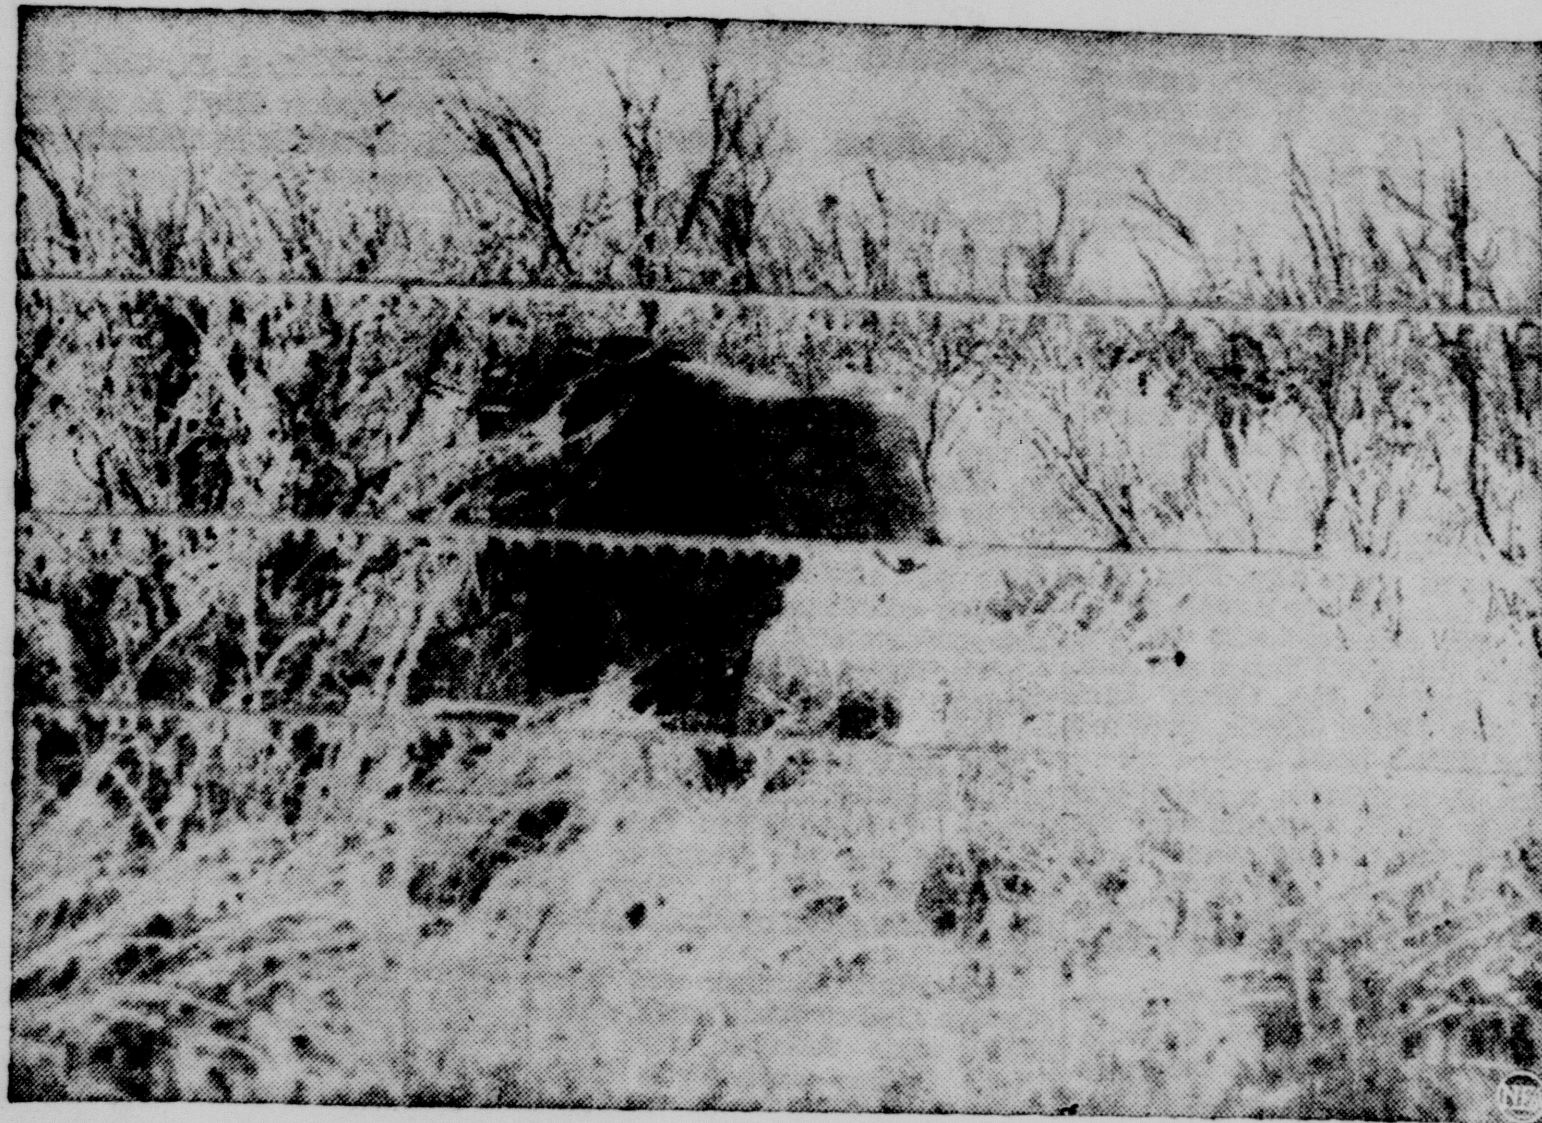

Perhaps it would be more accurate to say that the western nations are steadily gaining ground as the Marshall plan becomes more effective. Also Russia is under a heavy economic strain herself. She is having to spend much money in Italy, France, Britain, the United States and many other countries. These contributions include funds for support of Communist parties, for Red propaganda, for labor strife and what not.

Moreover, the Soviet Union is far from having repaired the ravages of the world war in her home territories. And it shouldn't be overlooked that her available resources at the beginning of the war weren't sufficient to maintain her effort. As Generalissimo Stalin once admitted, she couldn't have made the grade but for the help given by Uncle Sam.

So Russia isn't ready for major war now, and it will take her long to prepare herself, if the democracies stand firm. What the western nations have to do is hold their present line.

There is no use in talking "peace" to Russia. She has made it perfectly clear that she doesn't want peace and has no intention of making it. The Bolshevik world revolution is to go on at all costs. Therefore the winning strategy

It's Cold on The Range

A Hereford steer is surrounded by ice on the plains near Odessa, Texas, where ranches do not expect cattle to suffer as much damage as is feared was sustained by recent storms in Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska and Wyoming. The snow and ice was welcomed by Texas cattlemen as grazing lands had been gripped by a record dry spell before the storms. (NEA Telephone) for the democracies is to pursue their present determined policy. That will hold Russia's war potential in check, and will encourage the wretched slave nations of eastern Europe to assert themselves against the oppression of the Kremlin.

many communities.
Parsons long distance telephone service for emergency use only was restored last night. This southeast Kansas city of 17,000 still was without electricity, however. Power failed Monday.

At Parsons limited restoration of electric power was effected in the downtown area at 7:30 a. m. today for the first time since Monday. Utility company officials said it might be several days before lines are repaired and service is restored in residential districts of this city of 17,000.

Long distance telephone service for emergency use only was restored last night.

Using Katy Railroad Power
Dairies, using power from generators of the Katy railroad, were able to resume limited bottling of milk last night.
The Parsons Sun used power from the Katy railroad's generators to run off its editions.
The situation at the city's hospitals was improved. Heat and lights were restored at Mercy hospital, which was without heat for 36 hours.

A few restaurants remained open after dark using candles and lanterns for light.
A bread shortage also developed yesterday but arrangements were made for deliveries from other Kansas towns.

Power company and telephone crews began to make some headway in repairing the thousands of wire breaks in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas.

Slow Progress
KANSAS CITY, Jan. 13.—(P)—The Southwestern Bell Telephone company reported today that progress was slow in the repair of ice broken telephone lines in its area.

Spokesman for the company said that all of the wires hampered repair of line. In addition, 3,000 more poles toppled under the weight of the ice last night in northwestern Texas, bringing the total downed standards to nearly 8,000.

The company said its damage would amount to more than its estimate of $1,825,000 of last night.

A total of 2,300 men have been put to work over the five-state area of Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Arkansas crews have been shifted to southwestern Missouri, and those from southern Texas were shifted to the trouble spots in northern Texas.

Getting Back To Normal
FULTON, Mo., Jan. 13.—(P)—Fulton was gradually getting back to normal today after what residents described as the worst ice storm in the city's history.

Electrical service has been restored to most schools and factories, but the job of repairing all of the broken power and telephone lines may not be completed for several weeks, according to utility workers.

Fred Williams, chief engineer of the city's municipal utilities, reported that approximately 50 per cent of the primary lines are back in operation and his repair crews were making "good progress."

Troubles Ending
COFFEYVILLE, Kas., Jan. 13.—(P)—Electric power was restored to about half of Coffeyville today and Mayor J. B. McCue said "We are beginning to see the end of our troubles."

Only a part of the city's industries was able to resume operations, however, and schools remained closed.

The sun broke through the clouds occasionally today and the temperature edged up to 32 degrees in mid-morning, helping to thaw the ice coating, the Coffeyville Journal reported in a dispatch relayed to the Associated Press by amateur radio operators. Bus traffic was near normal from all directions, depot attendants said, with U. S. Highway 166 cleared to Joplin, Mo.

Shot From Behind
Both men were shot from behind.

In his letter, Donnelly told of two $20 money orders sent to him by relatives that he said were stolen and forged in 1940. Ironically, Harkins actually sent Donnelly some of the money he claimed was missing.

"While I was in Mounds (Okla.), Harkins sent me an old worn-out $20 bill for my handsome money orders," Donnelly wrote. "It was good for one year at any United States post office. He hated me because I fought for my rights."

Donnelly carried other letters in the same vein to former Postmaster General Frank Walker, Sen. Elmer Thomas and Rep. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, the New Republic magazine, and the Daily Oklahoman and Times here.

Lie Detector Solves Murder

GUAM, Jan. 13.—(P)—Three Negro U. S. air force men were charged today with raping pretty Ruth Farnsworth, former WAC, and leaving her unconscious in the jungle to die.

A lie detector and a recovered smock broke the month-old mystery.

The American governor of Guam identified the accused as Pvt. Calvin Dennis, 26, of Frederick, Md., and Pvt. Herman Dennis, 20, of Indianapolis.

Staff Sgt. Robert W. Burns, 32, of Spokane, Wash., Calvin and Herman are brothers. The three are accused of kidnapping, rape and murder.

Miss Farnsworth, 27, of San Francisco, was seized last Dec. 11 in a jade shop where she was buying a trousseau for her marriage next April to a Marine. She was knocked unconscious, carried out to a jungle and raped. A search party of soldiers and Marines found her there twelve hours later. She died Dec. 13 without recovering consciousness.

Lt. Cmdr. James T. Hackett, assistant chief of Guam police, said the brothers confessed their part in the crime after a lie detector trapped Herman.

Extradition Case Tuesday

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 13.—(P)—A second extradition hearing will be held next Tuesday for Iowa authorities who are seeking to move Dr. Robert Rutledge, St. Louis pediatrician, to Cedar Rapids for trial on a first degree murder charge.

Lynn County Attorney William Crissman, of Cedar Rapids, brought a new set of papers to Gov. Forrest Smith yesterday. A previous extradition request was refused by Gov. Phil Donnelly on technical grounds.

Dr. Rutledge is accused of the fatal stabbing of Byron C. Hattman during a quarrel Dec. 24 in a Cedar Rapids hotel room. He fled after the killing. He followed the St. Louis engineer to Cedar Rapids to discuss Hattman's attentions to Mrs. Rutledge.

Emery W. Allison of Rolla, Mo., president pro tem of the Missouri senate, will hear arguments in the case as acting Governor. Both Gov. Smith and Lt. Gov. James T. Blair, Jr., will be in Washington Tuesday for the inauguration of President Truman.

Dr. Rutledge is at liberty under a $5,000 fugitive bond.

Order From Staff Chiefs

TOKYO, Jan. 13.—(P)—Emperor Hirohito escaped prosecution as a war criminal on orders of the United States joint chiefs of staff. Copies of the order are available here. The order, a part of the directive to Gen. Douglas MacArthur to set up the international tribunal, which convicted Hideki Tojo and 24 other Japanese war leaders, was issued in January, 1946.

At first it was classed as top secret. Later it was graded down to allow defense attorneys for the 25 Class AAA Japanese war criminals to use it in their appeal to the supreme court of the United States.

Specifically it prohibited prosecution of the emperor "pending receipt of a further directive." Reliable sources said no further directive ever was received by MacArthur.

These sources said the decision not to prosecute Hirohito, who was commander in chief of Japan's armed forces, came from a U. S. "government level," which was not further identified. The chiefs of staff then issued the order. At that time the Far Eastern commission had not been formed as an advisory body on policy for the occupation.

He told reporters he had no prepared statement.

"I'm just here to answer questions," he said.

Rent Bill to Senate
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—The senate today got a bill to extend rent controls for 27 months. It would ban any more 15 per cent "voluntary" rent increases and put thousands of dwellings back under controls.

In introducing the measure, Senator Myers (D-Pa.) said it is designed "to close most of the loopholes... opened up by the 80th Congress in 1947-48." He added:

"The intent of the bill is to close the avenues of chiseling, arbitrary evictions, gray market practices in renting vacant properties, wide-spread violations of the law, and other slick tricks used by a small minority of landlords whose practices seriously undermine the whole rent control program and spread insecurity and fear among tenants."

Four Informer Suits Are Filed

SIKESTON, Mo., Jan. 13.—(P)—Four "informer" suits have been filed against theatres at Cape Girardeau, Charleston and Sikeston by R. G. Brady and R. T. Smith, two Cape Girardeau attorneys, charging violations of an old Missouri statute which provides for specific aisle space in theatres operating in the state.

One theatre at Cape Girardeau, one at Charleston and two at Sikeston are facing charges filed by the two men in the name of the respective city.

The law, the charge specifies, requires middle aisles be at least four feet wide and side aisles at least three feet wide "for the safety from fire of those attending."

Penalties
The penalty for giving public amusement in violation of provisions of the law is forfeiture of the license and fines of not less than $20 or more than $5,000 for every act of non-compliance.

The law also provides that "one-half of the recovery in every case shall be paid to the person making the complaint and the other half to the treasurer of such town, village or city for use and benefit of the public common schools thereof."

Theatre owners said the old law has not been observed generally. One said "if the case is lost, we are out of business."

Nominated For Another Term

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—U. S. Marshal Fred A. (Bull) Canfil of Kansas City, Mo., center of a controversy a year ago, was nominated today by President Truman for another term.

Senator Donnell (R-Mo.) early last year asked Canfil in a letter about reports that the marshal had said "The Constitution be damned" when a Springfield, Mo., newspaper photographer contended he had constitutional rights to take a picture of a prisoner.

Canfil replied to Donnell that he had made no such statement.

Donnell submitted affidavits from Springfield to the Justice Department with a request for an investigation. The Justice Department said at the time it would consider the request.

President Truman and Canfil are old friends.

Canfil's previous appointment expired January 17, 1946, but U. S. marshals continue to hold office after expiration of their terms until reappointed or succeeded.

GOP Leaders For Pay Raise

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—Senate Republican leaders today agreed to allow a speedy passage of a bill raising the pay of the President, vice president and speaker of the house.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) said this was decided at a closed-door strategy meeting of the GOP policy committee shortly before the legislation was due to reach the senate floor.

The bill also calls for salary boosts for cabinet and other high federal officials, but even Democrats have given up hope of getting immediate approval for those despite President Truman's plea for prompt

Girl Wrestlers Give Local Fans Action

More than five hundred wrestling fans braved slippery streets to attend the opening of the 1944 wrestling season at the National Guard Armory, Wednesday night. It was a night of thrills for those fans and they were rewarded with a real treat in action.

That little "Tiger Bombshell" Violet Viann, Kansas City, provided those moments of thrills in the main event when she whipped Nell Stewart, of Columbus, O., in the last two fall periods. Miss Stewart won the first fall with a body slam and smother in 10 minutes and 51 seconds, while Miss Viann came through in the second period with back flip off the ropes and smother to win in eight minutes and 21 seconds. Her third fall was won when she "monkey flipped" Miss Stewart off the ropes, spread her arms and pined them with her knees and held her tight to the mat in five minutes and 43 seconds.

It was a rough match for the two girls who gave the referee plenty of worry when he tried to break them at various times.

Jack McDonald, Detroit, beat Johnny Krugus, Louisville, two straight falls in the semi-windup. McDonald after 21 minutes and 16 seconds of knocking Krugus around the ring and himself taking some hefty rights to the jaw, won the fall. After knocking Krugus to the mat he jumped upon him and then smothered the wrestler to win the second fall. McDonald in the same fashion in two minutes and 25 seconds.

Opening the evening of entertainment Rose Evans, Cincinnati, beat Lillian Ellison, Chicago, with a body smother. The two girls had thirteen minutes and 15 seconds of honest-to-goodness slugging, strangling and kicking in the ring before the fall was won. It was one which kept the fans on their feet yelling themselves hoarse.

Train Your Own Hunting Dog—2 Now Let's Introduce Him to Game Birds

By Bill Waugh
AP Newsfeature
(This is the second and final story on how to train your own hunting dog.)

Your dog has learned to mind. On command he'll sit, lie down, stay in either position and retrieve.

"When he's finished with these lessons, he's ready for an introduction to game birds," says John Pippin, Visalia, Calif., amateur dog handler.

To explain how to train your own dog, Pippin reviews step-by-step the procedure he used in training his present cross-bred English setter-German pointer named Nick.

"Your dog has got to learn what he's hunting. He must build up enthusiasm for the field. The best way is to take him where there are game birds to work," Pippin says.

Your equipment to begin with is a 50 to 75 foot lightweight leash and a slip collar. And do not forget to take your whistle. It'll come in handy now.

Work your dog into cover where there are birds. The dog will flush them and give chase. After a few times, you let him start after them and then set up short on the leash, at the same time giving a sharp blast on the whistle.

Walk the dog back to where the birds were and give the command stay. You should walk ahead a few steps before giving a command to go on. Some hunters use the voice command and make a sweeping motion ahead with their arms. Others use two sharp blasts and the arm signal to get the dog going again.

This will have to be repeated many times. But eventually the dog—if he's a pointing breed—will come up to game and remain rigid.

Louis Wants to Defend His Championship

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Joe Louis wants to defend his heavy-weight boxing championship next June against the winner of a fight between Ezzard Charles and Lee Savold.

This was disclosed last night by Col. Edward Egan, chairman of the New York state athletic commission, who said the Brown Bomber had assured him he will fight one more time.

Egan injected this semi-official announcement of the champion's plans into the after dinner informalities of the New York boxing writers' annual function.

The writers gathered for the principal purpose of honoring Ike Williams, the busy lightweight champion from Trenton, N. J., and Dan Morgan, 75-year-old veteran fight manager.

Williams received the Edward J. Neill memorial award as the man who did the most for boxing in 1943.

Given James J. Walker Award
Morgan was given the James J. Walker award for long and meritorious service to the sport.

Egan brought up the Louis title defense as his regular report to the meeting in which he described the financial health of the ring business.

The commission head said he had talked by telephone with Louis in Topeka, Kansas.

I asked Joe if he planned to fight again, Egan related. "He said, Yes, he did. He said he would fight in June and there were two possibilities as foes—Ezzard Charles and Lee Savold. He said he'd defend his crown against the winner."

Sports Roundup

By Hush Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—One of this dept's most reliable sources (with a National Football league tinge) reports that the All America Conference has been giving serious thought to going with six clubs next season. . . . That idea may have changed within the past few days, since Tom Topping indicated he is ready and willing to get out of pro football, if he is able. . . . The NFL, our source indicates, isn't likely to soften its Philadelphia attitude, which was that Cleveland and San Francisco are the only clubs strong enough to be accepted in a combined league.

After watching Easy Ed Macauley and Co. lick Long Island U. the other night, we'd like to see a repeat of the St. Louis-Kentucky basketball tussle. We are still amazed by the speed and accuracy Macauley showed in passing off to his St. Louis teammates.

One-Minute Sports Page
The Sun Bowl committee gave coaches Bud Degroot of West Virginia and Jack Curtice of Texas Mines and their wives a fishing trip in Mexico just as a gesture of appreciation. . . . And an Oklahoma, S. B. Brand, sent William and Mary $200 to pay for a banquet for its footballers "in tribute" to their Delta Bowl victory over Oklahoma Aggies. The gift also was in memory of Brand's father and grandfather, both of whom attended William and Mary.

Dols All, Brothers
Pitcher Doyle Lade compiled a 4.03 earned run average in eight games with Los Angeles last season and exactly the same figure in 19 games with the Cubs. Another argument in favor of the third major league?

Back Pass in DePauw Pivot Play Varies Usual Sweep Fast Center
Another of a series by foremost coaches written for NEA Service.

By Hal Hickman
DePauw Coach
GREENCASTLE, Ind. — This play is a variation of one of the normal pivot plays used by DePauw.

Ordinarily, a guard starts the maneuver by passing in to the center. Both guards break with the pass, peeling off their men as they sweep past the center. The center usually pivots and loops a pass to either guard under the basket, or, if they are too closely guarded, passes back out to one of the forwards, both of whom have moved out in the court.

The play illustrated in the accompanying diagram carries a bit. Three passes to five, the pivot. Guards three and four start to break around the pivot, but four stops, receiving a backward pass from five, as three continues toward the goal.

Four passes to two, who loops a pass to three under the basket. Four and two follow through as normally.

This gives the play balance and protection in case the other team should gain possession. It can be worked to either side.

Stiff Fines For Breaking Rule

CINCINNATI, Jan. 13.—(AP)—It cost Leo Durocher, Freddie Fitzsimmons and the New York Giants stiff fines for negotiating a 1949 contract while the former Boston Braves coach was still a member of the Beantown club.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler yesterday fined the Giants' manager, Fitzsimmons and the National league club for violating the tampering rule. Chandler also warned that more severe penalties are in store for anyone who does it again.

Durocher and Fitzsimmons were assessed $500 each and the Giants $2,000.

In yesterday's action, Chandler held that conversations between Fitzsimmons and Durocher occurred without the knowledge or consent of the Boston club and Fitzsimmons was under acceptance terms by verbal agreement with Durocher, before any official of the Boston club knew negotiations were being conducted.

Fitzsimmons also was suspended for the 30-day period from March 1 to April 1.

Bing Crosby's Golf Tourney Friday

DEL MONTE, Calif., Jan. 12.—(AP)—A field of 192 golfers will swing into Bing Crosby's annual $10,000 pro-amateur tourney tomorrow.

The weatherman promised rising temperatures and none of the disagreeable kind of climate that many of the same golfers played through last week in the Los Angeles Open.

The tournament will be 54 holes, 18 at Cypress Point tomorrow, followed by two rounds Saturday and Sunday at Pebble Beach and the Monterey peninsula Country club.

Arthur (Otis) Zahn, head basketball coach at George Washington university, was a top star as a player at the school from 1930 to 1933.

Beware of Romance
By Roberta Courtland

THE STORY: The sumptuous way in which Lisa and Mike leave Merry a little breathless. Her first evening in New York. Lisa introduces her to Mike Channing. Next day Lisa takes Merry shopping and buys her a beautiful new wardrobe. Including a fur coat. Merry is loath to accept the clothes but Lisa tells her that she'll need them.

MIKE CHANNING was fun, and that first evening "on the town" with him would always stand out in Merry's memory. She had never had so much fun; she had never met so many gay, amusing people or seen so many interesting places. It was almost dawn when she came home, with a list of dates for the future beginning to form.

"You're practically a riot," Mike assured her in the taxi as he brought her home. "You've bowled over some of our most prominent wolves, and even the femmes like you—which is worthy of comment in several languages. But don't forget: I had a priority claim staked out even before you arrived. So when anybody asks you for a date you have to say positively, like a good little girl, 'I'll have to ask Mike. If he hasn't anything more exciting lined up, maybe I'll waste a few hours with you.'"

Merry laughed. "That ought to make me tremendously popular."

Mike nodded. "Oh, it will—with me. And you're not really concerned with being popular with anyone else, of course."

Merry's eyebrows raised. "Oh, am I not?"

"Of course not," Mike sounded almost cross. "I'm by far your best chance; eligible, free, 21 (and a little over), sound in mind and limb broken to harness, a superb disposition. Why, any girl who had the chance to marry me would be an idiot not to jump at it."

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round
by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—At a White House press conference in 1946, newsmen, knowing a new director of the budget had just been selected, asked President Truman for his name. The president hesitated, fumbled on his desk for a piece of paper, picked it up and read the name:

"James E. Webb," he said.

It was obvious from Truman's hesitation that he had not known Webb before.

In the two years that have passed, however, budget director Webb has so won the confidence of Harry Truman that last week he was appointed to the No. 2 spot in American foreign affairs—undersecretary of state.

As such, his job will be to oil the creaking state department machinery and fire some of the diplomatic duds who have been picked personally by Truman for this job, and will run the state department, leaving Acheson free to run foreign affairs.

Webb will be Truman's man. As such, there is, of course, the risk of setting up more Sumner Welles-Cordell Hull type friction. Webb, however, is easy to get along with, knows almost nothing about foreign affairs, but has had about as good an efficiency training in and out of government as any young man in Washington.

It began when a truck ran into a car near Raleigh, N. C., 28 years ago, killing the secretary of North Carolina's congressman Edward Pott, then chairman of the rules committee. Pott, looking for a new secretary, turned to young Jim Webb, then a flier in the Marines, got him discharged and brought him to Washington.

Max Gardner Finds Webb

One year later, another North Carolinian, the late ex-governor Max Gardner, came to Washington to set up a law firm. Max was looking for a man with Washington know-how to join his firm, and at six o'clock one morning sat up in bed to tell his law partner, Fred Morrison, that Jim Webb was the man.

"Don't you think you'd better talk to Congressman Pott before you take away his secretary?" suggested Morrison.

"No," replied Max, who came from western North Carolina. "I understand these eastern North Carolinians. They pay a man $2,500 a year and want to keep him for life. I'm going to talk to Jimmy first."

He did—with the result that young Webb joined the Gardner law firm.

A year, or so later, after Jim Farley had canceled the air mail contracts, the Gardner law firm represented the aeronautical Chamber of Commerce including Sperry Gyroscope, which brought Webb in contact with another North Carolinian, Tom Morgan, head of Sperry.

Morgan, an eastern North Carolinian, decided to do what Max Gardner had done to Congressman Pott. He grabbed Jimmy Webb as his assistant. For the next seven years, therefore, Webb worked as an executive of Sperry Gyroscope, until in 1943 he re-joined the Marines.

Webb got out of the Marines in 1945, by which time his old friend Max Gardner had been appointed undersecretary of the treasury, and Max persuaded Webb to return to government as his assistant. Later Max sold Webb to Truman as the best man to handle the intricate job of director of the budget. Truman acted on the recommendation without meeting Webb—and that was why he fumbled on his desk and didn't know Webb's name.

Note—As undersecretary of state, Webb's policies will be on the conservative side. As director of the budget, he put universal military training ahead of aid to education. And, despite President Truman's famous election campaign for health and welfare, Webb recently chopped every cent for health out of the Alaskan budget.

Labor-Farm-Business Conference

Albert Goss, master of the National Grange, had some interesting advice for President Truman when he called at the White House the other day.

"The time has come, Mr. President," said Goss, "for business, labor and agriculture to quit thumbing their noses at each other if we are to survive these trying times of mounting debt and threats of war. The leaders of all three groups must sit down around the table and start pulling together as a team to keep our Democratic system functioning."

Truman said he thought the idea of a conference among business, labor and farm leaders was a good one and promised to think it over.

"More Democrats Born" Truman

Inaugural committee chairman Melvin Hildreth was telling the president about the huge demand for tickets for the inaugural ceremonies.

"Never in history has an inaugural stimulated such tremendous popular support and enthusiasm," said Hildreth. "The people are as enthusiastic now as they were the day after your election."

"The answer may be, Mel," grinned Truman, "that there are a lot more Democrats than there used to be."

Merry-Go-Round

At 7 a. m. on inaugural day, President Truman will breakfast with the little group of men he commanded in World War I—Battery D, 129th Field Artillery. They will breakfast at the Mayflower hotel on Missouri street, and the high point of the occasion will be when Captain Truman calls the roll of his wartime comrades. ... Madame Chiang Kai-shek has about completed a deal to purchase a huge, 30-room mansion and estate near General Marshall's home in Virginia. It will cost $175,000—enough to feed a lot of Chinese coolies. ... Young congressman Bennett of Florida is introducing a bill whereby the federal government would reimburse the states for all schools erected for Negroes and Indians. ... All three services will get equal billing in the president's inaugural parade—thanks to army chief of staff Omar Bradley. Invited to ride at the head of the parade as marshal, Bradley accepted the honor. But he privately got on the phone and asked chief of naval operations Louis Denfield and Air Force chief of staff Hoyt Vandenberg to ride with him. ... Both the CIO and AFL have teamed up in a petition, asking the justice department, treasury department and the senate to investigate Senator Homer Ferguson in his home state. The charges are based upon facts first published in the Washington Merry-Go-Round. ... President Truman wants his White House chief of staff, Adm. William Leahy, to write a book telling the inside story behind the wartime Big Three conferences. ... Maine's GOP Senator Owen Brewster, who frequently takes to the air himself, is now championing the navy cause in a magazine article called: "The Navy Takes to the Air." Writing for the Aero Digest, Brewster chooses sides in the navy-air force controversy, refers to their bitter squabble over appropriations as a "healthy struggle for funds."

New Nebraska Congressman

One member of the 80th Con-

"It would serve you right if I held you to that!" she snapped at him.

He stared at her, his eyebrows raised.

"But why should you have to hold me to it? I'm a man of my word, a gentleman of honor. I don't go around proposing matrimony unless I mean it."

THE taxi had slid to a stop in front of the Sutton Place apartment and Merry was fumbling with the door, which just then swung open beneath the taxi driver's hand. Merry almost spilled her flustered, indignant young self out on the sidewalk.

"Hi, wait a minute—City Hall at noon," protested Mike, following her to the steps.

She turned there and straightened her eyes severely.

"Mike Channing, stop this silliness. You're tired, and you haven't the faintest idea what you're saying. Run along home and get some sleep. And don't be a dope."

"I resent that," said Mike stiffly. "When I propose to a girl the least I expect in return is a sensible answer."

"Then—no, thank you very much, Mr. Channing, but I'm not interested."

But before she could slip away from him, Mike's arms shot out and caught her close, held her tightly in spite of her instinctive struggle. And he kissed her hard. It was a half urgent, half angry kiss that was calculated to assert his masculine domination of the scene as much as his burning passion. And when he let her go at last, he was quite white beneath his sun-bronze and his eyes were blazing.

For a moment he stood still, staring down at her, his eyes wide and startled, and then he said under his breath, shocked, appalled, "Well, I'll be blowed!"

The next moment he had whipped away from her and into the taxi, and the taxi had swung into the street. For a stunned moment Merry continued to stand very still there on the apartment house steps in the thick, chill darkness of the hour before dawn.

After-Play Sweets for Small Fry

Cinnamon Puffs — A treat to beat the feet.

Meltaways — Serve 'em with apples.

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

After an afternoon of winter sports, nothing will be more appreciated by young fry than "Meltaways" and "Cinnamon Puffs." Along with steaming hot mugs of cocoa or chocolate they'll be downed appreciatively! You can prepare these sweets ahead and bake them just before the boys and girls are expected so that when they arrive the house will be filled with the wonderful fragrance of homemade yeast-baking. To make the snack heartier add bowls of cottage cheese with wedges of red-skinned apples and the teen-agers will love it! Here are the recipes:

Meltaways
Ingredients—One package compressed or dry granular yeast, 1/4 cup lukewarm water, 1/2 cup scalded milk, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 egg or 2 egg yolks, 1/4 cup shortening, 1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 cup currants, 1/4 cup chopped nuts, Caramel Glaze chopped nuts.

Method — Soften yeast in the lukewarm water. Top cooled milk, add shortening, sugar, eggs, salt, and enough flour to make a rather stiff drop batter. Beat until smooth. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Stir down and add currants and chopped nuts. Into greased, fluted muffin pans place two teaspoons of the following Caramel Glaze. Sprinkle chopped nuts on glaze. Drop batter into pans, filling one-half full. Let rise until puffy. When light, bake in moderate (375 degrees F) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Makes about 8.

Cinnamon Puffs
Ingredients — One cup ready-to-eat bran, 1/4 cup shortening, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup scalded milk, 1 package compressed or dry granular yeast, 1 egg (well beaten), 2 1/4 cups sifted flour.
Method — Add bran, shortening, sugar, and salt to scalded milk and stir until shortening is melted; cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in this mixture. Add egg, stir in flour to make a soft dough; cover. Let stand 10 minutes. Knead on lightly floured surface. Place in greased bowl; cover, let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Punch down. Half fill greased muffin pans with balls.

Snack Treat
Use a buckwheat corn mix to bake small thin pancakes about the size of a half dollar. Place one on a small plate. Pour melted butter over it. Spread it with caviar. A second pancake should be placed on top and the whole thing covered with sour cream. Some like a garnish of chopped egg yolk.
Egg salad sandwiches are especially delicious when the chopped or mashed hard-cooked eggs are mixed with finely cut celery or green pepper and a little crisply cooked crumbled bacon. Moistening the filling with mayonnaise or creamy-type salad dressing to which a bit of onion juice has been added.

WOMAN'S PAGE FILLERS
Add a tablespoon of prepared horseradish to a cream sauce for fish, meat or vegetables for a tangy flavor. A little prepared mustard may also be blended in.
A tablespoon of melted butter or margarine mixed with two tablespoons of orange juice may be blended with confectioners' sugar for frosting cupcakes. Sprinkle with finely chopped toasted almonds, if desired.
In baking fruit cakes remember that they do not rise very much so that too much space does not have to be left at the top.
Add a little onion or garlic salt when preparing the yolks for stuffed eggs, and garnish with pimento and strips of black olives.

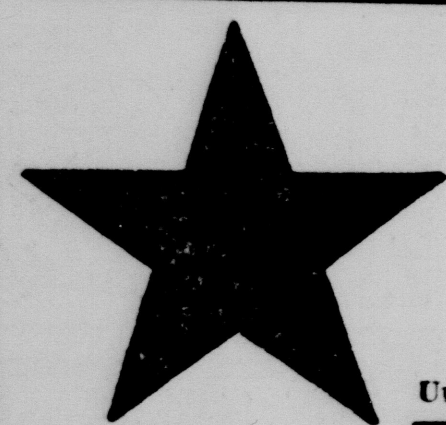

of dough. Cover, let rise until double in bulk. Bake in moderate (375 degrees F) oven about 20 minutes. Roll hot puffs quickly in one-half cup melted butter or margarine, then in mixture of 2 teaspoons cinnamon and two-thirds cup sugar. Makes 18, about 2 1/4 inches in diameter.

Next time you bake brownies, cut them in diamond shapes for variation and sprinkle the tops with confectioners' sugar or frost them.

Grated onion, chopped parsley, salt and freshly ground pepper make an excellent seasoning combination for hamburgers. Serve with creamed potatoes.

TEEN TALK

AP Newsfeatures

What do the stars predict for bright chilluns in this new year? Now that sloppy clothes and goon talk have been ditched what has happened to la Bella Teena and her boy friends?

W-a-a-l-l let's take a look... In Atlanta the younger girls show a tendency to want "to make things"—definitely not boys, our informer tells us. Surprise. They are busy in the kitchen making waffles, cakes with fluffy icing and salads. Though they are not as clothes conscious as Big Sis they make with a needle and thread when they want something new. And symphonies and concerts now are as much a part of their record collection as current song hits.

Hand in Glove With Love Even Hollywood's Peggy Ann

Garner has been spurred on to do something creative. Peggy just has designed some hep-mits for home-working teen agers. Instead of wearing common white cotton gloves while doing home chores, Peggy suggests brightening up busy hands with brilliant colors which can't help but make the dull duty seem fun. You wear them in matched pairs or exchange a left hand glove with your current date, wearing one orange and one blue or one green and one red, etc.

Red Hot and Blue

At the Brooklyn High School for Homemaking, girls have organized a teen-age girls orchestra. They play at high school dances and at one dance for high school boys, the girls reported the boys said: "we've never heard a better band." Were they flattered? You bet! Some of the girls are looking forward to a professional career in music, others are studying dressmaking, nursing, military. One girl plans to be a laboratory technician.

Hoggin' Moolah

Farms CAN produce money for young people, too. Kenneth L. Wayne Cheatham, 19, of Greenville, Ill., proved that when he topped a group of 213 young farmers and received the American Farmer degree at the future farmers of America convention. Kenneth earned $9,000 by his agricultural efforts while attending high school. It was his Ohio improved Chester hogs that gave him the financial boost he needed to enter the University of Illinois.

Smart Girls, Huh?

Hard at studies, too, are ambitious girls. At St. Lawrence University, Canton, O., scholastic averages for the 1948-49 fall term show, co-ed undergraduates lead the S. L. U. men by 79.913 per cent to 75.847 per cent.

Beauty Wise

Getting the best of everything out of Pandora's box are a group of teen-age girls of the Grand Street Settlement, N. Y., who attend classes which tell them "how to groom appearance for career while grooming studies for it." Makeup and hairstyling is taught by experts.

Daffy-dillers

At Normandy high school in St. Louis, the rage is daffynitions. Here is a glance at their revised dictionary published in their "Courier."

The New Look... Something that makes you look twice as hard at half as much.

Horse Sense... What keeps horses from betting on people. Psychologist... A man who, when a pretty girl enters the room, watches everyone else.

Smithton

By Miss Verona Neumeayer

Mrs. Leo Finley, who was admitted to the Bothwell hospital last Wednesday night, is being treated for double pneumonia. Leo Finley, who has been ill and confined to his bed for several weeks, and previous to that, was also a patient at the Bothwell, is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas of Smithton are the parents of a son, born Tuesday morning, January 4, at the Bothwell hospital. The baby weighed nine pounds four ounces, and has been given the name, Ralph Warren. Mrs. Thomas was formerly Miss Darlene Oehrke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Oehrke of Smithton.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ditzfeld and daughters of Robinson, Kas., were recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kalo Eichholz and sons, and also visited Mr. Ditzfeld's mother, Mrs. Matilda Ditzfeld, who is making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Kalo Eichholz and family. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ditzfeld were former residents of Smithton.

Extra Rod Adds Space to Closet

A rod hung across the top of her crowded closet utilizes dead space and gives New York actress Peggy Wagner more space for hanging up clothes.

By Alicia Hart

NEA Staff Writer

"Where to find an extra inch of space that will ease the closet crush and save clothes from that peril?" If that's the question that is burning on your lips, here is the answer. Put a double-decker rod in your closet and utilize the dead space which is usually available above the existing rod.

An extra rod in your closet will ease the strain on your temper, keep clothes better spaced and better aired and looking more presentable. Wedging rods tightly together on a closet rod cuts off the circulation of air needed to free fabrics of wrinkles and to release the nap of winter woollens.

To free clothes from a closet crush, simply utilize the dead space above the rod on which your duds now hang. Use the No. 2 rod that you suspend from wall to wall of your closet for hanging shorter garments. Reserve space on the lower rod for longer garments—all dresses, evening gowns and full length coats.

Here's still another useful idea for relieving a closet crush: Remove every space grabbing item of clothing which you don't wear or wear very infrequently. Park these items away in boxes or trunks. If you have no other spot in which to store boxes, put your unused duds in garment containers especially designed for storage under beds.

Miss Emma Monsees left the past week for North Platte, Neb., where she will spend the rest of the winter in the home of her sister, Mrs. Johansen, and the Rev. Bernard Johansen.

Harry Pace and his brother, C. D. Pace, of Jefferson City, and Harry Taylor, of Springfield, Mo., killed a large wolf on Dr. William Montgomery's farm, one-half mile south of Smithton while quail hunting. The county court paid them $10 for the scalp.

Marion Demand of Blue Springs spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Harry Demand, and with her father, Harry Demand, who is a patient at the Bothwell hospital, where he is receiving medical treatment.

Mrs. P. V. Siegel and two children, Pete and Betsy spent several days visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cunningham of Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schluesing and Mrs. F. D. Muschany spent Wednesday in Kansas City.

Recent guests in the Golden

In making tea be sure to rinse the teapot with boiling water before the tea leaves are added. Allow the boiling water and tea leaves to stand from three to five minutes before pouring.

Creamed brussels sprouts are delicious served with cooked, sliced, smoked pork shoulder butt.

EARLY BIRD

The new boarder was awakened one morning by the landlady's small son.

"Come in, Bub," he said.

"What can I do for you?"

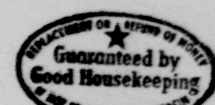

"Well," said the boy, "I notice you always sleep all day, so I brought you a big bowl of hot Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal. Mom always says it gives you lots of pep and energy."

"That's mighty nice, Son," said the boarder. "I eat it all the time—but in the evening, I'm a night watchman."

SQUAW CORN AND SPAGHETTI

HAPPY is the meeting between bits of crisp bacon and golden cream-style corn when they are brought together by firm tender elbow spaghetti. Thrifty durum spaghetti brings out the best in these two foods and combines the flavors with that of minced onion to make a fine-tasting yet low-cost main dish.

Hearty Squaw Corn and Spaghetti is a good solution to the busy-day meal problem. You can have this dish mixed and ready for the oven in about ten minutes. While the spaghetti is cooking dice and fry the bacon. Brown the onions in bacon drippings. Mix bacon, onions, corn and spaghetti with the seasonings and pour into a casserole. During the half hour it bakes, set the table and make the salad and coffee.

One way to make sure spaghetti dishes reach the peak of good eating is to read the label on the package when buying spaghetti at the grocery store. If the label says "Made from Durum Wheat" then you know you are buying spaghetti made from a hard kind of wheat especially suited to making good macaroni products.

A delicious dish for Sunday night supper is made by combining canned crabmeat with a cream sauce flavored with a little dry mustard. Sprinkle with shredded yellow cheese and a dusting of paprika and brown lightly under the broiler.

Use canned apricots for a soufflé and serve with a soft custard sauce flavored with vanilla.

Durum wheat foods keep a delightful chewy texture as they provide extra amounts of tissue-building protein.

Main dishes which make wise use of spaghetti are nutritious and satisfying. Crusty hard rolls, a vegetable salad and a pot of hot coffee are the only accompaniments you need with Squaw Corn and Spaghetti.

SQUAW CORN AND SPAGHETTI
 1/2 pound slab bacon
 2 tablespoons bacon fat
 1/4 cup chopped onion
 4 ounces elbow spaghetti
 1 No. 2 can cream style corn
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Dash pepper
 1/2 teaspoon paprika

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender (about 5 minutes). Drain and rinse. While spaghetti is cooking dice bacon and fry slowly pouring off all excess fat except 2 tablespoons. Brown onion in fat. Put bacon and onion into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Add cooked spaghetti, corn, and seasonings. Mix thoroughly. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 30 minutes.

Makes 4 servings.

It is a good idea to wash broccoli in warm salted water, changing the water four or five times, so that any insects in the heads will be removed.

To dress up broiled fish fillets for guests spread them with a sauce made from butter or margarine, finely chopped parsley, lemon juice and paprika.

Old House Dress Ain't What it Used to Be

FIFTY YEARS AGO — In 1898 the standard house dress was a calico wrapper with matching cap, evolving to the "Mother Hubbard" of 1904 and the "Billie Burke" of 1915, a shapeless garment which daringly exposed the ankles.

To make crisp cups for cream-filled foods cut unsliced bread in 2-inch thick slices and remove the crusts; hollow out centers and brush the inside and outside with melted butter or margarine. Bake in a moderately hot oven for about fifteen minutes, or until golden brown.

Next time you bake kidney beans try serving them with skillet browned sausage and cole slaw.

Season whole cranberry sauce with mustard, allspice and a little cider vinegar and spread over a slice of ham that is to be baked.

Chicken a la king is especially good when the cream sauce for it has been flavored with a little finely grated onion.

Serve Waldorf Salad — cubed apples and celery mixed with broken walnut meats and mayonnaise — with a mound of cottage cheese and garnish with paprika and watercress.

and a set of "jaws." It can be passed down the windpipe and into the smaller branches of bronchi where the jaws can pick up pins, marbles, coins, or whatever other dangerous foreign bodies there. The object can be drawn up inside a tube and thus removed without injury to the air passages higher up.

Thanks to Chevalier Jackson and to the animals with which he worked, most infants and children who breathe in these foreign bodies now can be saved from terrible suffering or death by the prompt and expert use of the bronchoscope.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

QUESTION: What kind of exercise can be done to reduce the legs?

ANSWER: Exercise increases the size of the muscles. Consequently, it is not reasonable to expect that exercises will reduce the legs and leave the rest of the body as it was.

Large Farm Home Burns Wednesday

Residence Of J. D. Wall Destroyed North Of Sedalia

Flames starting from a fireplace flue, spread over a nine room brick farm home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wall, 12 miles north of Sedalia, and left some ruined furniture, and only shattered walls standing early Wednesday morning.

Unable to use their new electric stoker furnace since REA electric power was off in that vicinity, the fireplace was temporarily being used. It was reported the fireplace chimney was struck by lightning about a year ago. It was then repaired through an insurance company.

Mrs. Wall was choking from the dense smoke, when she was the first to awaken, about 1:00 o'clock. She rushed downstairs, and saw flames were flashing from the fireplace. The fire spread so rapidly that the family only salvaged a few clothes.

An attempt was made to save some of the kitchen furniture. A new refrigerator was taken out of the house out it slid down a sloping back yard, and fell off a stone wall.

Wind kept flames from igniting a nearby garage, which was recently built.

Mr. and Mrs. Wall and their three-year old son are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hanley of near Hughesville.

Arrest In 'Black Dahlia' Killing

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Police released a 27-year old bellhop Wednesday who had been held on suspicion of murder in the 2-year-old "Black Dahlia" murder case and prepared to question a free lance movie writer.

Hundreds of suspects have been questioned since the bisected body of waitress Elizabeth Short, 22, was found here in a vacant lot Jan. 15, 1947. More than 50 "confessions" have been made in various parts of the nation in the sadistic crime. All were disproved.

Leslie Dillon, the bellhop, was arrested Monday after he contacted Dr. J. Paul De River, police psychiatrist, Chief of Police C. B. Horrall quoted Dillon as saying that he had learned details of the mutilation slaying from a friend known as Jeff Connors.

San Francisco police Wednesday announced the arrest of a Jeff Connors, 40, free lance writer and actor.

Assistant Police Chief Joseph Reed of Los Angeles, who assisted in Connors' arrest in Gilroy, Calif., said Connors denied knowing Miss Short.

School Dismissed

Schools in Sweet Springs were dismissed Tuesday at noon because of electric power failure and low water pressure. School buses could not run on schedule, some arriving late due to the icy condition of roads. School will be resumed Thursday.

Storm Halted Work

The employees of the International Shoe Factory of Sweet Springs were unable to work Tuesday afternoon because of the electric power failure.

Snow Blockade At Gordon Broken

OMAHA, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A combination of mellow weather, accelerated airlift operations and continuing snowplow efforts appeared Wednesday to have broken the back of Nebraska's snow blockade.

Hundreds of Nebraskans remained marooned on farms, ranches and in small towns. But emergency needs were being met.

"Everything's okay now," said a spokesman at Gordon, Neb., after a rotary snowplow opened the last big highway snow barrier into that northwest Nebraska town of 2,100.

Food-bearing trucks from Omaha will arrive in Gordon tomorrow. The first mail to be received in 10 days arrived late today.

The 242 migrant Indians from the Pine Ridge, S. D. reservation, who moved to Gordon to do corn picking and who are living in tents and shacks, were getting plenty of meat, if nothing else.

A medical authority said meat from frozen carcasses of livestock which perished in the blizzard was fit to eat. A city truck was made available to haul the carcasses. One witness said the Indians used axes to hack off edible chunks of meat.

Deny Report as To Draftees

Statement Is Issued By Maj. Gen. E. H. Brooks

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The army Wednesday denied a report it is considering release of some draftees on a voluntary basis as a means of staying inside manpower limits.

Maj. Gen. Edwin H. Brooks, director of personnel and administration, said in a statement: "The report has no basis in fact. No studies of this nature have been made by the department of the army."

"The army's announcement of last Saturday to the effect that the draft calls for February and March have been cancelled has not been amended since then."

The first tip on the reported plan came from an army officer who asked not to be named. It was checked with an army public relations officer who was understood to say the idea was one of several under consideration.

After Brooks' denial was issued, the public relations officer said what he had reported was that the voluntary release plan "was a very remote possibility."

The officer who first told of the reported plan said it might be used only if current enlistments remained high. Even in that case, he said, other plans might be used to keep total strength from going over the 677,000 figure established in the President's budget message.

Truck Power In Milking Cows

NEVADA, Mo., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Two farmers milked their cows with a truck engine when storm-broken power lines made their milking machines inoperative.

Jay Jones was the first to try it. Came milking time and no power. Not wanting to resort to the old fashioned hand methods, Jones called his son-in-law, Merle Collins, for advice.

Collins suggested he try to hook the master hose of the milking machine to the vacuum tank of his pick-up truck. The idea worked fine and Jones got his cows milked.

Collins then tried it on his 12 cows when his power failed.

Both Jones and Collins said they didn't think the cows knew the difference.

Lloyd Phillips Lions' Speaker

Talk Given On Tournament In Basketball

Lloyd Phillips, general chairman of the Sedalia Lions basketball tournament committee, was the principal speaker at the noon meeting of the Lions Wednesday. His topic was "Your Missouri Independent Basketball Championship Tournament."

Phillips gave a word picture of all arrangements of the tournament which will be played at the convention hall, Liberty Park, starting Tuesday night January 25 through Saturday January 29. He called upon various sub-committee chairmen who reported on their activities to date.

He announced the following teams entries have already been accepted, Conway, the 1945 Lions tournament champions; Warrensburg, Marshall, Rolla, Kennett and Knob Noster. Phillips reported several other teams have inquired and desire to enter the tournament, but these entries are being held pending results of various invitational tournaments over the state. The plan is to bring into Sedalia as many invitational champions here for the Lions tournament as possible.

Trophies Were Shown

Trophies were also shown, individual basketballs for members of the four top teams, the first and second place winners to receive gold basketballs, the third team, silver balls and the fourth bronze balls. The outstanding player of the tournament will receive a gold belt buckle and the next a gold key and watch chain.

The final night, January 29, the first game will start at 8:30 o'clock instead of 8:00 o'clock as previously announced to give merchants and their employees time to get to convention hall for the two games to be played that night.

Paul Maxwell was named Official Greeter, to meet all visiting teams and assist them with their problems.

Guests today were Burt Cotton, Kansas City of Dr. E. L. Rhodes, Edgar Brown, new member introduced by Charles Maggard, Cecil Holmes, of Dr. Edwin Epstein, J. E. Clayton, visiting Lion from New Iberia, La., and Joe Baier, who transferred to the Sedalia Club from Lexington, Mo.

Paul F. Hausman, president, presided.

Desires Missions All Over World

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Forrestal wants authority to send U. S. military missions to all parts of the world, wherever they may serve the country's global interest.

Senators learned of Forrestal's project Wednesday as the armed service committee held a closed-door organization session. They related it to the over-all American plan for setting up road blocks against Communist expansion.

At the same time air power advocates were promised a chance in the House to defend the idea of a 70-group air force in the face of President Truman's plan to

Little Old Lady Awaits Inaugural

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The weather was raw and windy. A light mist was falling. But the little old lady settled herself briskly erect on the park bench. "I'm practicing," she explained with a smile.

"Practicing or what?" she went on. "I've seen every one since Teddy Roosevelt's. I've got a seat on the parade route, and I'm not going to miss this one."

aim at a lower goal.

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), who will be chairman of the House armed services committee in the 81st Congress, made the offer. He said at the same time that top men of army, navy and air force will be called in to make their own bids for the funds which the President has proposed to divide almost equally among them.
